To the Democrats of the Fourth District:

I had hoped, and still hope, to return to the Fourth District before the August primary and meet the Democracy of Andrew, Atchison, Buchanan, Holt, Nodaway and Platte counties, but I would be unfaithful to the trust that you have reposed in me to now desert the post to which, through your generous confidence, you have assigned me, and return to your counties to enter in a campaign for the re-nomination which I desire at your hands. I have always trusted the Democrats of the great Platte Purchase and they in turn have trusted me and have further honored me by successive nominations and elections for which I thank them from the bottom of a grateful heart. I have never, as yet, as you well know, deserted the post of duty to which you have delegated me, to return home to look after my chances for re-election and as long as you keep me here, I never will.

CHARLES F. BOOHER.

Especially will I not return home at this most critical time in the history of the nation, when the whole world is on fire, and no man can tell an hour in advance what may add to the present horrors. My post is here, where you sent me.

It is a laudable ambition on the part of any man to desire to serve his country in Congress, if prompted in that desire by patriotic motives, and therefore I have no sort of criticism to make of those who have entered the race against me; but after all, it is not a question of what they or I want, but it is a question of what the people of the district believe will be best for them and the country at large. In the present crisis, the greatest in our history, I do not hesitate to say that if ever there was a time when men of experience were needed in the councils of the nation it is now. The good people of the Fourth District have kept me here long enough until I have become familiar with the duties of the position and in touch with the great questions now confronting the nation, and I cannot help but feel that I am better able to serve you now than I ever was before, and to better advantage than any new man.

No matter what the result, I shall be content with your verdict rendered at the primary, August 1st. If in your wisdom you think I should continue to serve you for another term, I promise to give you in the future, as I have in the past, the benefit of all my time and whatever ability I possess. If you feel that under the trying and peculiar conditions that I can serve the district better than any new man, I will appreciate your support.

I want to again assure you of my deep gratitude for your generous support in the past, and trusting that I may have the same in the future, I beg to remain,
Very Sincerely,
CHARLES F. BOOHER.

Christian Endeavor Notes.

Christian Endeavor was held Sunday evening, July 9, by Mrs. Clara Kneale, and was a very interesting meeting. As Mary Kneale, our president, was absent, Miss Katherine Fields, the vice-president, took charge of the meeting. The subject was "The consecration of Purpose." A great many were present to answer roll call. Luther Dawson and Don Martin gave interesting talks on the lesson. We were favored with a piano solo by Miss Orpha Stewart, which was well rendered.

There are about 70 enrolled in our Endeavor, but try, boys and girls, to bring a friend with you. We would like to see more fathers and mothers at these meetings, as there are a number of small boys and girls who take part, and it would do you good to be there and hear them.

The meeting next Sunday night will be led by Bert Maple. The subject will be "Purity, Temperance and Strength."

You, young men and women, who do not belong elsewhere come to this meeting and see if it will not benefit you.

REPORTER.

The Methodist Episcopal Church.

We had a largely increased attendance at prayer meeting last week, and good services throughout the day, Sunday. At night, Mrs. Etta Winters, superintendent of the Social Purity Department of the W. C. T. U., gave a very interesting and helpful address in a union meeting.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society held their meeting with Mrs. John Ramsay, last week. The attendance was good in spite of the heat.

Services will be held next Sunday at the usual hours. Let us be as loyal to God and the church as we are to our homes and business affairs. No one ought to ask the Lord to accept an excuse that would not be valid in the every day affairs of life.

J. W. ANDERSON, Pastor.

—T. A. Long, Veterinary.

—Judge Henry Lamm, Republican candidate for Governor, will be in this county, July 19th, at Forest City and Mound City in the afternoon, and will make a speech in the Court House at night. Judge John Kenish and Hon. Frank Fulkerson will be with Judge Lamm. Everybody come.

Blue Grass Industry is Growing.

We have been telling our readers from time to time, what a wonderful industry the blue grass industry is in this section of the world, but it is doubtful if the people yet realize that the Northwestern section of Missouri is the first blue grass country in the world. This fact can easily be established, as the buyers come from all points, including the famous blue grass region of Kentucky, to buy the seed. Only last week, the Herald printed the news of the sale of about 5,000 bushels of blue grass seed to buyers from Paris, Kentucky, at a price of 80 cents a bushel. This is only a drop in the bucket when it comes to the total amount of seed sold in this section. The farmers here are growing up to thousands of bushels of seed, mostly on whether they take care of the seed properly or not. Gentry county claims to be the champion county of the state when it comes to raising blue grass. But the Herald believes that Holt county will head the list when the farmers are asked to the real value of the situation.

D. A. Gelvin, of this city, reports the sale of approximately 3,000 bushels of blue grass seed to J. M. Miller, who represents a well known seed house of Kansas City, at 81 a bushel. This is a bushel of the Kentucky variety, at Mr. Gelvin says of 20 cents a bushel, or a gain of $1,000 on this one sale. Mr. Gelvin also states that he contracted for the sale of quite a lot of seed for his neighbors at the same figures, and it is to be shipped about July 24, which is another 10 per cent gain, as the shipments made in August will show a shrinkage of that much.

Mr. Gelvin says that he was the first large shipper of blue grass seed in this part of the country, selling over 12,000 bushels in 1912. He is enthusiastic over the outlook for this growing industry in this part of Missouri, and is anxious that the farmers and people in general give it more attention in the future, as it will bring thousands of dollars to the county and this vicinity especially.

Another great feature of the business is the fact that stripping the seed does not injure the crop for hay, providing, of course, that the work is done properly and at the right time.

The Herald will be glad to publish "blue grass" news or any other items of general interest of this sort. We are interested in the welfare of the people of Northwest Missouri.—Maitland Herald, July 6, 1916.

From Mound City Journal.

[July 6, 1916.]

For good and sufficient reasons, the following named boys of Company L, returned from Nevada, Tuesday evening, July 4: Sergeants Orville Eike and David Schaffer, Corporals Allen Stanley and Henry Acker, and Privates John Hastings, Elby McNulty, Herbert Guthrie, Horace Norris, Glen Glick, Geo. Carver, Frank Lowe, Earl Maynard, Harold Dudley and Ernest Griffith.

Lon Meadows left here Tuesday evening for Southern Texas, where he has recently purchased land, which he proposes to put under the plow and into some kind of a remunerative crop. Mr. Meadows is one of several Holt county men who have money well invested in that country, and each are confident that their money is well placed.

On last Saturday evening, about 8:30, as John Fries was crossing the street from the Holt County Bank block, and within a few feet of the curb, he was struck by the fender of Henry Arnack's auto, thrown to the ground, and the wheel ran over one ankle, bruising it badly, but breaking no bones. Mr. Arnack was driving very slowly and those who saw the accident were surprised that it occurred.

The old saying "that accidents will happen to the best of people" has reference to an accident that came to one of our citizens, whom you all know, at Big Lake, one day, this week. It seems that all the better bathing suits were out when Fred Burnett called for one, and he was furnished one that barely had sufficient material in it to cover requirement of law and decency, which the applicant donned and passed into deep water. In his exerting, he lost all but the superior garment, and when he wished to retire, he was compelled to select an opportune time and make a home-run, which he did much to his own gratification.

Picnic for Class.

Miss Beadie Meyer, teacher, and Mrs. Elmer Sherman, assistant, took their Sunday school class on a picnic expedition to the Hahn grove, two miles north of the city, last Tuesday. It is not necessary to say that they had the time of their lives. They expressed themselves as having had "oceans of fun." Messrs. Scott Holgren and Jacob Bucher took the youngsters to the grounds and returned them in the evening. Those in the party were: Carrie Zeller, Golda Bell, Ada Baker, Lucile Bucher, Jennie and Julia Pollen, Reva Lynch, Mabel Lent, Nora and Edna Wall, Alice and Letha Babb, Thelma Hodgins and Ethel Stewart.

Looking Backward.

[By Will Thomas Withrow.]

I wish I wuz a boy wuz most, I know what I woud do; I'd gather all them hazel nuts That grows down by the slough, An' then I'd bidd a grate big dam Down by that big high bank, An' back the creek up to our barn, So paw cood fill our tank; An' then I'd bidd a nice big hote, With seets along the sides, So me an' Lizzy—that's my girl— Could hav some nice ole rides. I'd take her to the circus, too, An' buy her lemonade, An' popcorn balls an' P nuts, too, An' seets for the P rade; An' when we both got bit enuff, I'd marry her, U bet; (If I just knowed where she was at, I believe I'd do it yet!) Gee whiz! If I was just a boy— An' I had the sense I've got, I'd crowd my life full of joy; Whether it paid or not; I'd grab the kernel of life's nut, An' never mind the shell; An' first of all, I'd have a home Instead of a hotel!—All-Story Weekly, July 8.

[July 7, 1916.]

Dr. J. C. Ottman and N. B. Scott drove to Soldier, Kansas, Sunday in response to a message that Mrs. Scott was quite sick there, at the home of her father, L. Gardner, with whom she has been visiting. It developed that she would require an operation, and she was taken to the Noyor hospital, in St. Joseph, Thursday morning. Further news of her condition is not obtainable at this time, but it is believed that she will recover without great difficulty.

Miss Bonnie Cunningham was here from St. Joseph for a weekend visit with relatives and friends. Miss Cunningham's father, A. D. Cunningham, is very sick at his home in St. Joseph from his old ailment, pernicious anemia, a disease resulting from impure and insufficient blood. Mr. Cunningham has been very sick on several previous occasions from this disease, but each time has rallied under the care of a specialist, who now has charge of his case, and his friends here hope that he may again be nursed back to health.

The annual mission festival will be held at St. Peter's Ev. Lutheran church, west of Craig, Sunday, July 16, and it is planned to make it a big event. Rev. Adolph Vogel, of Altenburg, will preach a sermon in German in the morning, and in the afternoon, he will deliver a lecture in German, upon the mission work of the church in South America, and especially in Brazil. Rev. Vogel was a missionary stationed in Brazil for twelve years and possesses an abundant fund of knowledge from which to draw the material for his lecture. Following the lecture, Rev. Hoemann, of Falls City, will deliver a sermon in English. There were no services at the church last Sunday, July 9, as the pastor was attending the pastoral conference of the northwestern division of the Missouri synod at Farley.

Presbyterian Church Notes.

"The Preparedness of a Christian Nation" will be the subject of the morning sermon next Sunday. Sunday school at 9:45. Christian Endeavor at 7. Evening service at 8. Prayer meeting tonight at 8.

Since Mrs. Albert Markt has taken the girls' class they have reorganized and have taken the name "The Glad Game Class." They spent most of a day fixing up the yard north of the church and hold their study class out there. Mrs. Markt is a wide-awake teacher and there has been a new interest among the members. They have a number of plans for more efficient work.

Mrs. Will Markt's class of girls is also showing signs of new life and a quickening interest. They have had several additions to the class and spend their study hour in the shade of the trees in the park, where it is cool and pleasant.

The Social Circle has very kindly presented the church with palm leaf fans which add much to the comfort of the congregation this hot weather.

The Missionary society was entertained Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Kate Scott and Mrs. Emma Emerson. They had a helpful study hour and during the social hour that followed delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Married.

Married, at the Christian parsonage by the pastor, Elder B. H. Dawson, Saturday, July 1, 1916, at 4 o'clock p. m., Claude, son of J. W. Kuhn, of the Lincoln school district, and Miss Beulah, daughter of Ed McFarland, of the Kinsey school district. Those present at the nuptials were Miss Ida, sister of the groom, Sam and Clyde, brothers of the groom, Clyde being a twin brother; and Cecil, a brother of the bride. After a few days' visit with relatives and friends in St. Joseph and Andrew county, they are now at home at the groom's parents. The Sentinel joins with their many relatives and friends in wishing them success and health in their journey through life together.
